

Why don't we offer a free trial/first lesson?

Simply put, because we are not taking asking you to pay for any lessons up front. No risk, no gamble, no financial investment. We are a pay-as-you-go studio. Studios that offer a “free lesson” will want you to sign up (i.e., pay) for a semester. There are pros and cons to both.

Pay As you Go Studio (Our system)

Pros:	Cons:
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •Pay as you go, no up-front payment /investment .Come as frequently as you like, stop when you like, with no penalty or financial loss. •First Lesson is a full scale lesson with NO sales pitch. •No minimum number of lessons required •No obligation to continue. •Flexible schedule for lessons. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •Meet your teacher at your first lesson.

Free Trial lesson Studio (with pre-paid tuition)

Pros:	Cons:
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •Meet your teacher prior to the financial investment / first lesson. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •Large Financial investment of pre-paid lesson for months or longer. •No refunds for missed lessons, or when you decide to cease lessons. •Gamble of whether or not you can attend the number of lessons you've already paid for. •First lesson is brief; includes a sales pitch to get you to sign up for pre-paid lessons. •Usually comes with a non-flexible schedule.